MARINE CORPS TRADEMARK AND LICENSING

A recent video by the Marine Corps Trademark and Licensing office talks about the importance of registering products and buying products that are officially approved by the Marine Corps. The Trademark and Licensing office is constantly registering new trademarks, with at least 40 new ones in the pipelines. The revenue generated, which is about $1 million to date goes to running the licensing office, as well as troop morale, welfare and recreation. The Military Merchandise helps increase public awareness of the Marine Corps, and challenges them to be part of the elite military groups like the Marine Corps. "It is important for consumers to buy products with the Marine Corps Trademark and Licensing tag," Philip Greene, Trademark Counsel said. "Just like an NFL product, the tag tells the consumer that that is an official product licensed by the Marine Corps."
